The new Opole Wojewodztwo has the following powiats: Opole, Kluczbork, Olesno, Strzelce, Kozle, Raciborz, Glubczyce, Prudnik, Nysa, Niemodlin, and Grodkow--all former powiats in the Katowice Wojewodztwo; also Brzeg and Namyslow, former powiats in the Wroclaw Wojewodztwo.

The Czestochowa Powiat has been transferred from the Kielce Wojewodztwo to the Katowice Wojewodztwo. The city of Czestochowa will be the powiat seat.

The Nowe Miasto Powiat from the Bydgoszcz Wojewodztwo and the Działdowo Powiat from the Warsaw Wojewodztwo are to be incorporated into the Olsztyn Wojewodztwo.

The Znin Powiat and the Mogilno Powiat, formerly in the Poznan Wojewodztwo, have been transferred to the Bydgoszcz Wojewodztwo.

HOUSING, HEALTH PROBLEMS FACE ZIELONA GORA WOJEWODZTWO -- Glos Wielkopolski,
No 159, 11 Jun 50

Zielona Gora Wojewodztwo is composed of 17 powiats: Zielona Gora, Gorzyca, Strzelca, Skwierzyna, Sulecin, Miedzyrzecz, Swiebodzin, Rzepin, Babimost, Gubin, Krosno, Wschowa, Zarr, Zagan, Szprotawa, Kozuchow, and Glogow. The first 12 powiats were formerly located in the Poznan Wojewodztwo and the last 5 in the Wroclaw Wojewodztwo.

Since Zielona Gora has become the seat of the newly-created Zielona Gora Wojewodztwo, three major problems have come to the fore.

The first problem is the housing situation. Before the war, the population of Zielona Gora was 26,000; today it is 35,000. Housing plans are now being worked out to meet the growing demand for new dwellings.

Supplying the city with sufficient water is the next major problem. Zielona Gora has a definite shortage of water which is especially felt by residents of upper floors. Water equipment is antiquated, wells are drying out because of improper care and the pressure tower is not properly located. Installation of new equipment would solve this problem. Since Zielona Gora changed from a powiat city to a wojewodztwo city, the demand for water has been increasing constantly.

The third major problem is how to overcome the iodine deficiency within the region. Every fifth person here suffers from some thyroid gland disturbance. To help arrest the expansion of thyroid gland diseases, iodized salt has been sent to the area.
